ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Jeffrey Aboh loves programming, writing, speaking, traveling, and lifting heavy things. He does not love talking about himself in the 3rd person. He is the founder of Ethion Technologies, a registered company that provides Web Development, Software Development and other I.C.T Professional Services including General Contracts. He worked as Head Developer for Areton Limited, United Kingdom and got his B.Sc at Bingham University, Nigeria.

A front-end/back-end developer's role is to combine design, codes and business logic to achieve a user-facing and advanced product. To do this successfully, a wide skill set is necessary to produce a quality user experience and advanced features that leads to meeting business goals. With my experience I can!
